Japanese Language Programs Remain Strong in Ohio: Thousands of K-12 and College Students Enrolled in Japanese Language Courses in the State

The Consulate General of Japan in Detroit recently completed its annual survey of Japanese language education in the state of Ohio. This survey lists the number of K-12 schools, universities and colleges offering Japanese language programs in the state, as well as the number of students enrolled.

In Ohio, there are 14 high schools and 7 elementary and middle schools that offer Japanese language courses with a total of 1,305 students in the state enrolled at the K-12 level. In addition, there are 23 colleges and universities offering Japanese language programs with 2,303 students enrolled.

“Japanese language education in Ohio has remained strong for many years. I have had the chance to visit many schools throughout the state and I have always been impressed by the students’ sincere enthusiasm when it comes to their language studies. With 482 Japanese facilities providing nearly 73,000 jobs to people in Ohio, it is certain that students who graduate with a working knowledge of Japanese will have a great variety of career opportunities presented to them right here in this great state.”—Consul General of Japan, Mr. Mitsuhiro Wada.
